

AUSLANDSBÜRO MAROKKO

COUNTRY REPORTS

German Political Foundations in Morocco: A Strategic Partnership in Support of Dialogue and Cooperative Solutions

On the sidelines of the 80th Session of the United Nations General Assembly held in New York on 26 September, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, African Cooperation and Moroccan Expatriates, Mr. Nasser Bourita, held talks with his German counterpart, Mr. Johann Wadephul. On this occasion, the two ministers signed an amendment to the technical and economic cooperation agreement governing the activities of the German political foundations in Morocco.

As the visit of the German Federal Minister for Foreign Affairs, H.E. Johann Wadephul, approaches, the German political foundations present in Morocco underline the strategic importance of the partnership between the Federal Republic of Germany and the Kingdom of Morocco.

The signing of the German-Moroccan agreement regulating the activities of the political foundations in September 2025 constitutes a strong political signal. It reflects increased mutual trust and a shared determination to sustainably structure political and institutional cooperation between the two countries.

The Konrad-Adenauer-Stiftung recognizes Morocco as a committed and reliable partner, a pillar of regional stability, and an important actor on the international stage in a regional and global context marked by growing tensions. Morocco's role in promoting stability, dialogue, and cooperative solutions is a central element of this strategic relationship.

Within this framework, the German political foundations contribute to strengthening public dialogue, supporting reforms, and enhancing cooperation with state institutions, political parties, civil society, and academic circles.

The visit of the Federal Minister for Foreign Affairs is therefore part of a clear political dynamic: that of a forward-looking partnership based on shared interests and joint responsibility for regional stability and international cooperation.

The Konrad-Adenauer-Stiftung reaffirms its determination to support this strategic partnership through sustained, transparent, and long-term political engagement in the Kingdom of Morocco.
